Donaldson in Early Years - pedagogy, practice, planning Jen Summers
This course will highlight what really matters to children and the relevance and importance of first-hand experiences. It will focus on the types of learning environments schools need to create to fully support the New Curriculum vision for Early Years.

The course will focus on the following discussion points:
- what are the principles and features of excellent early years practice and pedagogy which never change?
- what is rich, meaningful, authentic learning and how do we plan for a learning environment that can support experiential and schematic learning?
- how can we invite, entice and engage our ‘littlest learners’ to encourage independence and creativity?

Dates: Mon 9th November 2020
Venue: Blanco’s Hotel, Green Park St, Port Talbot. SA12 6NT
Target Audience: Nursery & Reception Teachers/TA’s/Non-Maintained Settings

STEM in the Foundation Phase  Jen Summers
‘BRILLIANT BLOCK PLAY - The world through the eyes of a child’
Block play is the perfect way to support the four purposes. It offers a vast range of open-ended experiences, enriches every curriculum area and supports child development. Through block play children may investigate the basic principles of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics - not to mention problem solving, thinking and social skills! Block play fosters a child’s natural curiosity.
Course Objectives:
- identify the progression of block play from Nursery – Year 2 and beyond
- provide guidance on how to set up high-quality block play areas ensuring progression across the phase
- highlight the importance of using open-ended, natural and recycled materials to enhance block play areas
- draw attention to the role of the adult in this open-ended area of continuous provision
- share exemplary practice demonstrating the versatility of block play and how it supports all areas of learning
- hands on workshop and planning using ‘Areas of Learning and Experience’.

Delegates attending the training will be provided with a range of materials to support the setting up of block play areas.

Date:  Tue 10th November 2020
Venue:  Blanco’s Hotel, Green Park St, Port Talbot. SA12 6NT
Target Audience:  Foundation Phase Practitioners (Teachers/Teaching assistants/NMS/Flying Start)

Planning for Progression in the Teaching of Reading in KS2  Stephanie Vaughan
Guided reading and beyond. What comes after guided reading? How can a school use different reading approaches to help pupils to become increasingly independent readers? This course will demonstrate how to plan for progression in the teaching of reading by combining guided reading with group reading and reciprocal teaching.
Course Objectives:
- to provide a model for planning the teaching of reading so that support is gradually withdrawn leading pupils to independence
- to look at guided reading activities that are quick and easy to prepare
- to look at strategies that can be used to deliver purposeful group reading that develops critical and analytical skills
- to explore how reciprocal teaching can be set up and used to provide pupils with a safe environment in which to develop skills
- to suggest a timescale for using the different approaches in KS2

Date:  Tue 10th November 2020
Venue:  Blanco’s Hotel, Green Park St, Port Talbot. SA12 6NT
Target Audience:  KS2 Teachers, TAs
